Miss Burford reads a book to Emma, Will, Tim, Amba and Makayla (pink ribbon behind Tim).

The Extended Transition Program commenced this week. It was wonderful to welcome Emma, Will, Tim, Amba and Makayla into our school. The children had lots of fun and were very busy. They read stories, made flying fish, developed fine motor skills by manipulating play dough, toured the school including the Platypus Garden and developed their gross motor skills using balance beams and outdoor equipment. The children shared a fruit platter and enjoyed making new friends. The next session will be held on Wednesday 6th September, commencing at 9.00am.

Didgeridoo Program

William Fisher and Tyler Summers continue to participate in an Aboriginal Cultural Program led by Mark Atkins. Under the mentoring and tuition of Mark, our boys have been not only learning how to play didgeridoo but they have also been making their very own didgeridoo instruments from scratch.

We are very fortunate to have Mark in our school coordinating this program as he is a world renowned accomplished musician whose time is very much in demand.

This program has been possible through the support of Joblink Plus who are providing us with this great opportunity.

Through this program, our boys will have the opportunity to join with other didgeridoo students from around the region, whom Mark is also teaching. Together they will form a didgeridoo orchestra.

Our boys look forward to Wednesdays with Mark with great enthusiasm.
